The Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs (DEFRA) has appointed us to provide Design Term Commission services until 2009 – on framework agreements which could be worth in the region of £9m over the next three years.

We have worked for DEFRA for the past seven years on a project for foot and mouth disease burial sites on a design term commission.

We will now provide multi disciplinary services for London, East Anglia, the South West and Northern regions on a design term commission.

Manchester Managing Partner Chris Hartley said: “Having worked for DEFRA for many years, in an environment where we have been encouraged to implement best value principles, we look forward to delivering further continuous improvement over the term of the commission.”
